

From: djerassi@stanford.edu
To: tzonkov@clbme.bas.bg
Sent: Tuesday, February 13, 2007 8:38 PM
Subject: Re: Editor of 'Bioautomation' journal

2/13/07 San Francisco

Dear Prof. Tzonkov,

It is with distinct pleasure that I see myself mentioned in a Bulgarian scientific publication-- not only because of the Bulgarian roots of my father, but also because of the first-class educational experience I encountered in the American College in Sofia after my flight from Vienna in 1938 before my eventual emigration to the USA. It was in Sofia that I learned excellent English and received such outstanding instruction that I was able to skip two years of schooling in the USA. I wish the newest member of the European Union the best of luck as well as substantial scientific benefits from this important step in its political history.

Cordially yours,

Carl Djerassi